

THE PIONEER HEALTH FOUNDATION is sponsoring the

Mary Langman
PRIZE ESSAY COMPETITION
2011/2012

open to all post-graduates and undergraduates at universities and higher education institutions in the United Kingdom

win
£500
for 3000 words
on

The Relevance of the Peckham Experiment in the 21st Century

topics

health, environment and sustainability• the healthy development of the child, and community•
the role of nutrition and physical activity in health improvement and wellbeing nutrition • exercise • obesity • behaviour change• family • parenting • how children learn • play• social inclusion• cohesion • community cooperation• health literacy • competition • consumerism • expectations • public health • biology• food/farming/fertility •mycorrhiza • water/air/waste • built environment • participation•

Information about the Peckham Experiment can be found on the Pioneer Health Foundation website at www.thephf.org

Full details of the competition rules and guidelines are available on the website www.marylangmanprize.org.uk

You are invited to Register at the website your interest in entering the Competition

Deadline for submission 1 February 2012